

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 02/24/2025 04:10 PMComments Received :

As an American businessman who needs to travel to work with manufacturing partners, I have concerns, and have received concerns from business partners regarding the sudden and extreme nature of the planned changes to the American passport process. To continue leading the world economy, the United States MUST have a consistent and stable system of identifying its citizens; this change threatens that stability and inherently dissuades business partnerships. This will harm our economy and our position as a world economic leader.