I firmly oppose the proposed changes to the Passport Policy as they would force my transgender son to list his birth sex on any new passport. A gender on a federal identity document that conflicts with his physical presentation as well as other forms of identification effectively outs him as a transgender person. This subjects him to potential danger and discrimination, as well as restricts his freedom of movement--a right guaranteed by the Due Process Clause of the Constitution--as it will be unsafe for him to travel to certain parts of the world as a transgender individual. Indeed, it's unsafe for him to travel to certain parts of the United States as an openly transgender person! The federal government denying that my son is transgender doesn't make him cisgender. What it does is restrict his freedoms, subject him to discrimination, and compel him to adopt government ideology he doesn't agree with--a direct violation of the First Amendment. These proposed changes are harmful, unconstitutional and--contrary to the Executive Order's stated objective to protect women and girls--protect no one. That's not the country I know and love.
