

Author Full Name : Anonymous

Received Date : 02/27/2025 12:29 PM

Comments Received :

Limiting or preventing people who have had a gender change on official ID from getting their passport, or from getting their passport with their chosen gender marker does not make Americans safer. It just makes trans Americans more limited in their movements and more likely to be harrassed when traveling. Freedom of movement is a right we all have in this country. Gender markers are not even needed for passports, the photo is a better check of identity anyway.