Requiring US Citizens to provide their sex at birth to receive a US Passport is a violation of basic civil rights. The only purpose of this rule change is to attack our family and friends who are transsexual. Outing people whose passport photo and personal appearance do not confirm to the sex they were assigned at birth purposely causes harm and confusion with border control. The State Department should continue to allow citizens to submit the gender marker that conforms to other official identification such as a driver's license. To do otherwise is purposely cruel and unnecessary.
