

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 03/02/2025 03:15 PMComments Received :

I completely disagree with the proposal to narrow the definition of "sex" to be based on the biological production of reproductive cells as it relates to an identification document such as a passport. Any supporting documents submitted by an applicant that supports the requested change in sex should be accepted and be relied upon to change a passport. You are targeting a narrow population of people that have rights just like anyone else and you should not be trying to justify your uneducated personal biases by making changes that fit your narrative.