

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 03/02/2025 05:02 PMComments Received :

There is no medical or legal basis for defining gender based on sex assigned at birth. The American Medical Association, American Psychological Association, and World Health Organization all recognize gender identity as a critical marker of identity. Forcing incorrect sex markers on passports endangers transgender people and creates unnecessary bureaucratic obstacles.