

Author Full Name : Anonymous

Received Date : 03/05/2025 11:24 PM

Comments Received :

An individual has the freedom to be who they are. If they have realized that their sex assignment is not who they truly believe they are then that decision is theirs and not the governments. The individual may be identified by their chose sex/gender, not necessarily what they were assigned at birth.