

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 03/08/2025 02:59 AMComments Received :

Citizens are citizens. Denying any US citizen a passport due to their identity, outside of nation of birth, is pure discrimination. Queer Americans deserve the right to exist, thrive, and travel freely as much as any other. Deny, withholding, or questioning the passports of American citizens for any reason is unlawful, and doing so under the pretense of a protected class defies the constitution.