

Author Full Name : Sarah EppleReceived Date : 03/10/2025 02:20 PMComments Received :

Causing undo hardship for some citizens for no reason other than bias, seems to be unnecessarily cruel. Even if you think transgenderism is a mental illness, you aren't taking away travel and identity rights for others with mental illness especially when they are under doctor's care. Just prejudice and cruel. I say that as a Catholic cisgender married woman. I can't condone unnecessary cruelty and prejudice to any group of people.