

Author Full Name : Laurel Hunt

Received Date : 03/10/2025 08:35 PM

Comments Received :

I disagree with the narrow definition of "sex" as it relates to issuing a passport. The sex on an applicant's passport ought to be based on the supporting documents provided by the applicant. It is critical for every US citizen to have accurate identification documents.

There are a variety of situations where a US citizen must change their name or correct data on their passport. In those cases, the name and sex on the passport should match the sex on his or her supporting documents.