Please allow for people to use an X gender marker again. All U.S. citizens should be allowed to have a gender on their passport that matches their current gender identity. If a passport is supposed to help with national security as a means of identifying travelers, it is much less safe to have someone who does not look like the gender listed in their passport. It is not often easy to identify trans people. Having someone with a full beard and an F gender marker would create confusion and, importantly, put that person at risk when traveling. Please change this application as soon as possible.
