

Author Full Name : Andrea FosterReceived Date : 03/11/2025 07:24 AMComments Received :

Accurate and consistent identity documents are a critical part of mobility, economic productivity, and participation in public life. Every citizen deserves a U.S. passport that appropriately reflects their identity. Passports support travel, employment, and interactions with government systems. Sex at birth is irrelevant to the purpose of a passport. It is a waste of government resources and federal staff time to pursue this policy change. It also places undue burden on affected citizens. I urge you to reject the policy change