

Author Full Name : Caitlin RidleyReceived Date : 03/11/2025 04:47 PMComments Received :

Proposed rule change is discriminatory and likely to cause confusion for TSA and homeland security agents when approaching a transgender person who does not live as their sex at birth. Additionally this proposed change does not account for individuals who were assigned neither female or male at birth due to intersex status. Proposed change also interferes with American first amendment rights to free speech and expression; previous wording supported said rights by acknowledging individual lived experiences.