Denying trans people accurate passports would expose them to violence and discrimination anytime they have to show ID and keep them from traveling safely. It would impact every element of participating in public life – from flying, opening bank accounts, to enrolling in school, and more.

This is a waste of government resources to solve a non-problem
It will help no one but harm transgender and intersex people and their families

What other ways will this information be used by a transphobic government?

Trans individuals are people who deserve the same dignity and respect that we wish for ourselves
