

Author Full Name : Vicky Hawkins

Received Date : 03/15/2025 01:50 PM

Comments Received :

The inability to have a passport that accurately reflects a person's name or gender is discriminatory, but it is also dangerous. All people should be able to have identity documents that do not out them when presented, and all people should enjoy the right to move about freely and travel without exposing themselves to additional scrutiny, harassment, or physical harm.