This is an unnecessary change that will cost taxpayers more to implement. It goes against previous court rulings. It does not take into account intersex citizens, they have no way to fill out a gender marker that applies to their sex if it's only M & F. This will cause confusion as there will be many people with contrasting identification due to this change, making it more difficult for citizens to travel.

I am concerned this will also expose cis women to harassment and invasive policing if the official handling their passport doesn't think they look feminine enough.
