

Author Full Name : Anonymous

Received Date : 03/15/2025 11:58 PM

Comments Received :

The change to request that passport applications include sex assigned at birth creates a burden of time and cost related to researching that information without adding to the effectiveness of the document. It also creates a potential burden of stigmatization for the document holder, particularly in reference to foreign travel. This proposed change should be rejected.