

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 03/20/2025 08:19 PMComments Received :

it is important that transgender citizens be able to mark their preferred gender on a passport. many of them have socially transitioned so it would be confusing to have a gender marked on their passport that does not match what they look like. in addition, gender is just another data point in identifying a person and is subject to change, like weight or hair color or even overall appearance in the passport photo. freedom to mark a preferred gender also helps intersex people represent themselves appropriately.