RE: Comments on Proposed Emergency Information Collection

Dear Mr. Norcross,

After the reviewing the above proposal we find that a reduction in reporting time will produce an unnecessary burden on staff in reporting various project milestones. The current 90 day reporting period is more than sufficient to track project timelines and actually review completion milestones in a timely manner. If the attempt is to enhance collection accuracy and adhere to the Paperwork Act of 1995 reducing the reporting turn-around time is not the best method.

Very Truly Yours,

William Hudzik
