Question 11 is missing many of the necessary gender options. The fact that there isn't even a "prefer not to answer" option is just cruel.

In addition, the housing question is STILL missing. This information is required for generating a student's COA, and is therefore necessary to be included on the FAFSA.

If the FAFSA Simplification Act only allows questions directly related to determining a student's federal aid eligibility to be on the FAFSA, then the gender question should be removed since it is not used in determining aid eligibility, and the housing question should be added in its place since it is actually used in determining aid eligibility.
