We at the Edunomics Lab respectfully urge EdFacts to require that state education agencies once again include the number of students scoring in each performance category at the district and school levels. From 2009 to 2019, this level of detail was reported, demonstrating that the data is both available and feasible to collect. In fact, many states continue to publish this information publicly on their own websites. Ensuring EdFacts requires this submission would allow for data from all states. Restoring this reporting requirement would significantly enhance our collective ability to monitor student progress and support transparency, data tools, research, and ultimately improve outcomes for all students. Thank you for considering these comments. Please don't hesitate to reach out to our team at edunomics@georgetown.edu with any questions.
