To whom it may concern - limiting data to a single metric is designed to hide important information. This information is gathered at taxpayer expense and all of it (except personal data) should be available to the public.

I support the original November 2024 proposal that would restore reporting of student counts in each performance category for reading and math. This level of detail is critical for researchers, educators, and policymakers committed to strengthening academic outcomes nationwide.

Please reinstate the requirement for full performance-level reporting beginning in the 2025–26 school year. Thank you.
