

Author Full Name : Anonymous

Received Date : 06/20/2025 05:47 PM

Comments Received :

Hi, I think it's important that we collect as much data as we can about student achievement, as understanding trends in student academic success can help guide those who was to see our public schooling system do better.

The proposal from November 2024 which would bring back more detailed reporting in various categories like before 2019 was good, and I support that; I do not support the current proposal to continue limiting data reporting to EDFacts.