Re: Federal Register notice of February 25, 2025, requesting comments on the Treasury International Capital (TIC) reporting system forms BC, BL-1, BL-2, BQ-1, BQ-2, BQ-3, (OMB Number 1505-0016), forms CQ-1 and CQ-2 (OMB Number 1505-0024), form D (1505-0199) and form SLT (1505-0235)

Dear Mr. Wolkow:

The Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA) strongly supports the continued collection of the TIC B- and C-forms, as well as TIC forms D, S, and SLT. The data collected on these forms are critical to key components of BEA's economic statistics.

Taken together, the TIC form collections to be extended under the Federal Register notice provide the most comprehensive data available on financial transactions and investment positions in U.S. assets and liabilities, excluding direct investment, between U.S. residents and foreigners. The investment instruments covered by these forms include loans, deposits, trade credits, derivatives, equity securities, and debt securities. These TIC data programs are critical for the production of the financial account of the U.S. International Transaction Accounts (ITAs) and the U.S. International Investment Position (IIP). The TIC data also form the basis of U.S. current account estimates of investment income payments and receipts, excluding direct investment. These income estimates are also components of interest paid to the rest of the world in the U.S. National Income and Product Accounts. The attached tables show the data used from these forms by BEA.

Please keep BEA informed of any modifications to these forms. We are particularly interested in any modifications proposed during the forms approval process that would substantially affect our use of these data. For additional information, please contact Tiffany Burrell, Source Data Coordinator, on 301-278-9618 or by e-mail at Tiffany.Burrell@bea.gov. Should you need assistance in justifying this form to the Office of Management and Budget, please do not hesitate to contact BEA.

Sincerely,

Dennis Fixler,
Chief Economist

The TIC data are generally aggregated and provided to BEA according to the layout of the reporting form as a matrix consisting of data components that define columns and geographical areas that define rows. Many forms have memorandum items following the geographical areas that obtain additional details for the component columns. The tables below outline how the TIC forms are currently used in BEA statistics.

Use of TIC B-form and C-form Data in the International Transactions Accounts

Generally, all components and rows of all the TIC B- and C-forms are used in BEA transactions statistics, except for Form BQ-3; data from Form BQ-3 is incorporated in IIP Table 4.1.
