General Comment

$10,000 has been a set price for a very long time with the current value of money. This should be increased to at least 15,000. You can hardly buy a coin for $10,000 nowadays and many transactions are simply done in cash 10,000 is such an eligible amount of money at this point in time that the I'm not should be increased to 15,000.
