

Author Full Name : Alex Null

Received Date : 10/30/2025 10:02 AM

Comments Received :

In my reading of this rule, I believe that the collection of information is not the only thing that should be done. When the information is collected it should not just be stored away. There should be action taken when the information is collected to better support sanitary transportation. Even though the burden could be quite high for the information to be processed the benefits of human safety outweigh the costs.

(This comment was written as a project for a political science class.)