The original OMB was implemented without proper compliance by an invalid OMB identification number. All assets or trades are required for a source of confirmation, and the entity that participated with the contract did not provide accurate information on the type of transactions, nor where the transaction occurred, thus causing inappropriate non-disclosure of revenue for income tax and other taxes on income failing to pay the government for the true amount of taxes owed. This is unlawful activities that should be investigated further and prosecuted under the law of the Constitution.
