General Comment

fsis does a lousy job of making sure our meat imports are safe. (a) this process is necessary but this agency does the process poorly so that unsafe food comes into this country. a fake piece of paper doesn't mean much. the present system is poor.

(b) agency gouges us taxpayers for tax dollars and then little is funneled into the inspection process. the fat cat bureaucrats take it all for their office bathrooms, their trips all over creation and money for their own wallets. the honest inspectors who turn down crap products are fired. this agency does not want honest inspectors. the tax dollars go to corrupt employees, mgrs and pols.

c. stop the bureaucracy. don't fire honest inspectors. stop the greedy profiteers from making big money on crap food. we also want farm animals raised humanely. this idea of abusing them constantly so their bodies are filled with stress chemicals makes them unsafe food to eat. fire 75% of the managers. we need smaller cheaper govt that works better. bureaucracy does not help

d. the burden on profiteers should be higher to prove their product is safe and that any animals are raised humanely. there are never any suits by this agency against profiteers selling crap food. those profiteers should be in prison. the system is not working for america or american consumers. that is why we have endless non profit groups who need to be listened to. humane society, idausa, peta. food and water watch, sierra, etc. when does govt get the hint that it is not working - they just go blindly on hurting all americans.
