INSTRUCTIONS

To determine child care fees for your child(ren), or and child(ren) you legally claim as dependents, this from must be completed, signed and returned to the facility for which your child is enrolling.

Fees are determined based on your Total Family Income (TFI) as defined below. If you choose not to disclose your family income, your rate for child care will be set at the highest fee level.

Total Family Income (TFI) - For the purpose of determining child care fees in DoD Child Development Programs, total family income is defined as all earned income including wages, salaries, tips, special duty pay (flight pay, active duty demo pay, sea pay) and active duty save pay, long-term disability benefits, voluntary salary deferrals, retirement or other pension income including SSI paid to the spouse and VA benefits paid to the surviving spouse before deductions for taxes. TFI calculations must also include quarters subsistence and other allowances appropriate for the rank and status of military or civilian personnel whether received in cash or in kind.
