

The NHTS has provided useful information for Florida. We used the information to track the travel behaviors of Floridians and compare them with those of the nation. The 2008 survey will provide us with better and more accurate data and allow us to do more in-depth analysis. As a policy analyst, I fully support FHWA's effort in conducting the 2008 NHTS.