I am an owner operator and i assure you that these will not help in safety. The only thing it causes is more drivers rushing around, speeding, wreckless driving; all because they are racing the countdown on the e-log that is already in their truck dueto the company mandate.

Having said that, i own my truck and pay all expenses and taxes on that vehicle that gets you the supplies you need to do whatever it is you think your doing without consulting your constituents which is me and every other driver out here that is paying your salary and as far as were concerned you need to be promptly removed from your position and placed back into the private sector. I will not comply and be forced to purchase a product out of my pocket that will do absolutely nothing to help my business. What your doing is wrong and is in violation of the free market that our country was founded on. If you will kindly take the time to not push your own private agenda please feel free to contact me on this matter. I will be more than happy to let you go with me and see what it truly takes to live a truckers life for a week or a month.then maybe you will understand and finally have some common sense when it comes to the real issues out here like training new drivers and seeing the conditions and people we have to drive around and deal with on a daily basis.
