Currently CFR 390.31 and CFR 395.8 appear to benefit a few suppliers of dispatch management software/hardware solutions. I believe that ONE set of regulations should govern ALL vendors/suppliers, specifically as it applies to devices that do, or do not, interface to the CVM. The logic that a connection to the CVM ensures accuracy is, in my mind, out of touch with the reality of the functions of the ELD and the actions of the driver.
