Comments on FMCSA Docket No: FMCSA-2014-0377

Vnomics, a full solution telematics provider that includes a 395.15 compliant Automatic On-Board Recording Device (AOBRD) feature, has the following comments on the form for Electronic Logging Device (ELD) Vendor Registration.

Company Background:

Vnomics Corp. is a leader in next-generation fleet management solutions. The Vnomics' solution uses a pro-active approach to fleet management, giving drivers and fleet owners real-time coaching and insight into fleet performance, and delivering immediate savings. The Vnomics' solution also provides fleets with efficient and effective compliance tools including a fully compliant Hours of Service application. With a reputation for innovative technology and extraordinary results, Vnomics' customer base has expanded across fleets of all sizes and industries, including some of the largest fleet operators in North America.

Vnomics' Comments and Recommendations on ELD Registration-Certification:

5.2.1(3) Software version of the product.

- Vnomics requests verification that the required software version refers to the ELD software version that is part of a larger telematics solution.
- To accommodate software updates and to avoid confusion by FMCSA website users, Vnomics recommends that the software version that is displayed is the current base or main version.

Closing Remarks:

Vnomics appreciates the opportunity to comment on the ELD Registration – Certification. Should FMCSA require clarification or have further questions on Vnomics comments, please contact, Mari McGowan via email (mmcgowan@vnomicscorp.com) or phone 585-377-9700.

Sincerely,

Alan Farnsworth
