Dear Mr. Bettridge,

For your information, I spent conservatively a full 8 hours in preparation and submission of DHS's new CSAT.

This included: about 3 hours reading the Regulation as it appeared in the Congressional Record; Reading & copying for future use the CSAT User Registration User Guide; Gathering pertinent information about my 11 facilities; navigating the CSAT Registration procedure including perhaps 20 minutes attempting to determine how to respond to the security warning on the CSAT User Registration web page; and entering the appropriate data.

And I was not purposely attempting to waste time. Your assessment of the time burden is not realistic.

Sincerely,

Gene McPherson
