General Comment

An experience of our agency, the Department of Education, Child Nutrition Programs in Oklahoma, was that at least one week's submission appeared on the data for approximately 2 weeks then suddenly disappeared. Feeding sites for one of the two largest school districts in the state were completely dropped from the listing. When patrons attempted to find a site to feed their children in Tulsa, they were being directed to sites in surrounding towns outside of Tulsa. This caused quite an issue when the Superintendent of Tulsa Public Schools contacted our State Superintendent of Schools inquiring and complaining why Tulsa sites were not on the list. As our Child Nutrition Division was not aware at all, AND being made aware on a Friday afternoon, it was very difficult to track down a reason and solution. The problem was not rectified until mid-week the following week and the cause was found to be unknown. All 60-70 sites simply disappeared from the list.
