General Comment

This is from the NASA STARS application:

It is the best implementation of an OMB compliant

EEO data query I've seen. It not clearly only separates ethnicity and race, which should prevent any issue in the 2 or more counts, but it has the

"Decline to Answer" choice in all categories, an OMB requirement that is seldom implemented for the ethnicity or race query, much less gender.

Applicant Background Survey Help with this answer

The information requested below is needed to determine if our recruitment efforts are reaching all segments of the country, as required by Federal law. Providing this information is voluntary.

Your privacy is protected. The information you provide will only be seen by NASA Human Resources and Equal Employment Opportunity officials. Only summary data is reported, and only in a format that cannot be broken out by individual applicants. Your voluntary responses are considered confidential and treated accordingly. They are not released to the selecting official(s) or to anyone else who can affect your application. They are also not releasable to the public.

Please complete all questions even if your response is "Decline to Answer."
