THE JUSTICE DEPT HAS BEEN HANDLING THIS. THE JUSTICE DEPT CAN BE INFORMED THAT YOU HAVE A WEBSITE ON THIS SO THAT THEY CAN RELATE THAT TO ANY VICTIMS OF EITHER SEX. THIS IS VIOLENCE NOT SEX THAT IS INVOLVED HERE AND THE VIOLENCE IS BEING HANDLED BY LAW ENFORCEMENT WHICH IS THE RIGHT VEHICLE TO HANDLE VIOLENCE. VIOLENCE IS A LAW ENFORCEMENT ISSUES, NOT A HEALTH ISSUE. THE HEALTH ON THIS COMES LATER AFTER THE PERSON IS CAUGHT. I DONT SEE THE NEED FOR A STUDY ON THIS AT ALL. IT APPEARS TO BE A USELESS ATTEMPT TO MAKE TAXPAYERS SPEND AND SPEND AND THEN SPEND SOME MORE. LEAVE THE IMPLEMENTATION OF ACTIONS ON THIS TO LAW ENFORCEMENT NOT MEDICAL HEALTH.

this attempt by the careless and negligent cdc is about money for them to spend and thjis collection will do absolutely nothing to stop the violence in intimacy that is going on. jailing more of those who engage in it but the way america has allowed endless millions of other cultures, m any with abhorrent cultures of violence against women and of men attacking young boys in homosexual encounters such as afghanistan, well those imports need to be cut to zero. we need to examine the cultures we are letting intot he usa and whether they are bringint this violence against women with them into america. we in fact in america women are very well acquainted that we have a society intolerant of such violence. many foreign cultures women have been cowed and treated abusively for so many years that they will allow men to treat them this way. we need to close our borders to these cultures and let them stay in their own country. we need to make sure we understand who we are letting into this country and what their values are. we just opened the border and let them all in. we are suffering the consequences of that action right now. we have crime figures going up and they are being committed by sneaking lawbreakers ffrom foreign countries. they have no law in their own country so they are not used to following laws. they are not good candidats for immigration at all. we have an american population of 328 million so these figures cited for violence are not very large when you take into consideration our large population in addition we already have law enforcement focused on this issue and handlng it. the cdc however is notoriously inaccurate with figures and notoriously inaccurate and careless and i dont think they can add anything to this issue at all. i would not give them a penny more. in fact much of the tax dollars shoudl be taken from this agency. they are unreliable. their work deserves an f minus. they promote hysteria. the murder case in iowa epitomizes this issue.

mexican immigarnt sneaks into america works on farm. kills a local girl who lives in the community. that is not unique. you also cant trust cdc with numbers at all. they use them ot promote themselves not honesty.
